Dolls in Children's Roles Add Realism To Fire Drill At St. Elizabeth Hospital

The pediatric department at St. Elizabeth Hospital resembled a doll store yesterday as preparations were made for an evacuation fire drill for the fourth floor.

Nurses who were aware of the forthcoming drill, but not informed of the exact hour, carried the dolls to work yesterday, and 22 dolls were garbed to represent patients to be carried from the children's department when the alarm sounded.

It went off at 1:24 p.m. and 11 minutes later, all 22 "doll" patients were safe on the third floor, including several that were in traction for leg fractures, an infant receiving oxygen and an invalid in a wheel chair representing just about every emergency situation.

Bernard Pinney, hospital personnel director and a former fire captain, termed the drill a success in every measure, as each of the 22 "doll" patients at all sizes and conditions was removed with extreme care and without a mishap.

It was the first time a monthly fire drill was staged for the fourth floor children's department, and the dolls were used so as not to disturb the young patients.

The dolls were evacuated to third floor safety via stairways and elevators, and most were gathered on comfortable pads on the floor until the emergency was over and they could either be returned to their rooms or assigned others.

Pinney explained the same procedure is followed in drills for other floors and departments. However, the teenage "Candy Striper" boys and girls play the patient roles.

"In the children's department, we couldn't figure out how to substitute live boys and girls for the hospitalized youngsters, so we finally hit on the idea of using dolls, and the nurses found an ample supply," Pinney said.

"It worked out beautifully—much better than we had anticipated—even with the difficult cases of handling youngsters in complicated traction of oxygen tents, which were all cooperated as needed."

Next month the drill will be staged on another floor, and Pinney is compiling a movie of the evacuation operations. When it's completed, it will be available for showing for clubs and other organizations," he said.

GC Civil Defense Placing Emphasis On Fall-Out Shelters

Emphasizing the fall-out shelter program as important phase of national defense, Victor Koenig, director of Granite City civil defense, told members of the civil defense advisory council Monday night there now are 28 buildings in the area marked as suitable for use as shelters with a capacity for 10,000 persons.

Koenig said the shelter buildings, all of which have been approved by federal government engineers, who personally inspected them, are from 40 to 100 times safer for persons than being outside in the event of a nuclear war.

"The majority of the shelter areas has come to the fore front since Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara stated recently that the country's anti-missile program is of little use without adequate protective

3 Persons Hurt In Area Crashes

Two persons were injured when a car driven by Charles E. Pitts, 357 of 4123 Lake avenue, crashed into a steel city steel Co. switch engine at 12:40 a.m. Wednesday at the 19th street and Edwardsville road rail crossing.

Pitts and a passenger, Carol Arnold, of the same address, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She had a pain in the left knee and he had an injury to the left ankle which was x-rayed. Two children, Dale Arnold, one, and Ricky Arnold, eight, both of the same address, also were taken to the hospital where it was determined they had no apparent injuries.

The right side of the car and the right front of the engine were damaged. James Perizen, 45, of Collinsville, the engineer, and his crew said the engine was in operation. Pitts, headed north on Edwardsville road, said he did not see the engine and that the signal lights had gone out momentarily.

Passenger Injured

An auto passenger was injured and the driver of another car was charged with driving while intoxicated and making an improper left turn at 7:05 p.m. Tuesday following an accident on Madison avenue near 27th street.

Hurt was Edna Erway, 46, of Rochester, N.Y., riding in a car driven by Richard C. Erway, 41, of 2000 Johnson road. There was no record of treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Three other passengers were unhurt. Arrested was Admiral L. Griffin, 65, of 2640 Center street. The accident report showed that Erway was going south and Griffin was heading north when he made a left turn in front of Erway. Griffin said he thought a deer was the street intersection.

Chemical Placed On Car

Police officers found a can of chemical on a car Wednesday morning at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday that while his 1957 auto was parked behind a shelter area on the Granite City Steel Co. lot at 17th street and Madison avenue, vandals threw some type of chemical on it.

Major Drill In October

Seines For School Strikes Planned Starting Monday

Board Alters Several Stands But Custodians Stress Raise Deadline

A strike for more pay by school custodians in the Granite City district is planned for Monday morning, Union President Carl W. Harrison told the Press-Record today. He said the group has the backing of all other school unions and the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, and predicted a full shutdown of the schools.

If the school district seeks and obtains a circuit court injunction against the strike, it is likely that other employees will take turns setting up picket lines, in effect continuing the school closing indefinitely, Harrison said. He termed actions taken last night by the board as inadequate.

School officials are awaiting the response of five business agents to letters delivered this morning outlining a series of bargaining proposals submitted jointly by the agents. Their stand is that they are willing to negotiate, but Harrison said the nine months worked without a new agreement are long enough, and that custodians will wait no longer.

Unions that would take turns picketing are Building Service Employees' Local 26, representing about 75 custodians; Laborers' Local 387, representing one custodian; Carpenters' Local 20; painters; and Teamsters' Local 525, two truck drivers.

The five have been negotiating since last March 27 prior to their last talks with school negotiators. Carpenters' Local 20; Carpenters' Local 20; Carpenters' Local 20; Carpenters' Local 20; Carpenters' Local 20.

General approval of whatever action is taken by the five groups has been expressed by the Trades Council; by Teachers' Local 743; whose current agreement runs until June 30; and by cafeteria workers, members of Local 98, for whom an apparent wage agreement has been reached.

Painting Cycle Change Saves Depot $26,000

A savings of $25,800 a year based on a decision to change the painting cycle of buildings at the Granite City Army Depot was announced today by Co John M. Ansley, commanding officer.

"Buildings at the depot will now be painted only when they need to be," Col. Ansley said, "not as before when they were painted at certain cycle intervals."

He added that these savings, and many more at the depot, are a result of an overall Army cost reduction program instituted this past year.

Public Relations To Be Topic For Area Lawyers

A public relations institute for southern Illinois lawyers will be held Saturday at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, James M. Corcoran, Jr., Evanston, chairman of the ISBA committee on public relations, announced today late. The committee and the public relations committee of the Madison County Bar Association will sponsor the session.

Over 50 lawyers representing local bars in the area including the Quad-Cities, are expected to attend.

Horse A. Young, Chicago ISBA president, will open the all-day meeting at 10 a.m. with welcoming remarks.

One of the principal talks will be made by Billie R. Bethel, Springfield ISBA director of legal economics, on the topic "Results of the Missouri Bar Client-Lawyer Depth Survey."

The Missouri survey, financed at a cost of over $35,000 by Prentice-Hall Foundation, was undertaken two years ago to find out public attitudes toward lawyers and the courts. The Missouri Bar won the American Bar Association's Award of Merit contest last year with the project.

Following the opening talk, Corcoran will speak on "Need of Public Relations."

Other members of the committee who will give speeches are Harry H. Marshall, Alton; Peter H. Lounsbury, Rock Island; James W. Sanders, Marion; Cyril A. Farwell, Oak Park; and Richard L. Thies, Urbana.

Topics to be covered in addition to the Missouri survey include "State and County Fair Booths," "Press Relations and the Lawyer," "Movies," "Public Information Advertising," "Annual Legal Check-Up," "Mock Trials," "Speakers' Bureaus," and "Radio and TV Programs and Newspaper Articles."

The committee will present a variety of displays on public relations at the institute. Sample materials, including a public relations handbook, will be given to all lawyers attending.

Board Proposes Meeting

Letters from the school board proposed a meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the board's office, the maintenance employees upstairs in one of the Temple rooms and the two negotiating teams conferring and maintaining contact with the board and the union membership.

Whether such a meeting might develop prior to the Monday strike deadline was not clear at press time today.

The board last night mentioned the possibility of meeting tomorrow night, but was uncertain whether the custodians would be able to assemble prior to a union meeting Saturday morning. In ending its special meeting last night, the board recessed until 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Readiness to meet during negotiations with the board and employees available for immediate ratification of a settlement, which would be a contract which met with board approval last night.

Talks With All Unions

Also accepted was a proposal to negotiate wages and fringe benefits jointly with all unions, including the teachers, if the teachers' local is willing to accept a similar proposal. Agreements have ended in different ways the two-year pacts with maintenance personnel.

duty as a radar operator when the quake and tidal wave struck the island, and that his family was then home on the base.

Visited Here In September

Mrs. Hawkins said she knew her sister-in-law only a short time. "She's from Greenville, Pa., and they were married last June in Florida. They were here for a brief visit in September. She (Mrs. Wallace) took some snapshots while they were here, but she took the rolls of film with her and was going to send us the negatives. I guess we never got them now."

Her brother attended schools here and enlisted in the Navy before his 17th birthday. However, he did work for a short time at Granite City Steel Co. while he was in the reserves and before he re-entered the service.

"I guess you could say he has been stationed all over in the 22 years he has been in the service. I couldn't tell you all the places," Mrs. Hawkins told the Press-Record.

Funds Accepted

No special fund drive is to be held, but contributions to the earthquake victims are being accepted by the Red Cross. Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary, said today.

"A complete survey of earthquake damage in Alaska is still not obtainable but it is apparent that many persons made homeless are in need of Red Cross help in meeting immediate necessities of food, shelter and clothing," Mrs. Overbeck commented.

"A considerable number of families are expected to apply for Red Cross long-time assistance in rebuilding, repairing homes, replacing household goods and other living necessities, as well as occupational equipment and supplies to resume normal living."

"Forty Red Cross disaster specialists have flown into Alaska to help organize and coordinate family relief efforts. A Red Cross headquarters has been set up in the Y.M.C.A. Building in Anchorage. According to Red Cross officials, as of yesterday, 20 persons are known dead, 25 injured and in hospitals, and 82 persons are missing and presumed dead."

In Anchorage, damage is concentrated principally around Fourth and D Streets. Five Red Cross Shelters are operating in the city. Seward suffered major damage to the railroad terminal and docks, while Whittier was practically devastated. Valdez and Kodiak were severely damaged.

Tidal Wave Damage

"The tidal wave following the quake swept a path of destruction a half-mile wide and three blocks deep through the small town of Crescent City, Calif., killing 10 persons, hospitalizing 17 others and affecting 150 families. A team of 11 Red Cross disaster workers was flown there to coordinate relief measures," she related.

"Red Cross National Headquarters arranged through Chicago firm to send a million water purification tablets to Anchorage, where the water supply could have been contaminated. Two tablets will make a pint of contaminated water suitable for human consumption."

"Earlier, 2000 Red Cross family comfort kits were shipped to Seattle, the marketing-point for Red Cross relief supplies and personnel, and then to Alaska. Each kit contained soap, a toothbrush, toothpaste, shaving articles, cosmetics, toiletries and similar items."

ments to end simultaneously. School board members expressed hope that a one-year or three-year settlement with custodians and maintenance workers now might end the stalemate that has developed over terms of a two-year pact retroactive to July 1, 1961.

A $25 monthly raise request originally was considered, Harrison said, with later changes to hourly boosts of 10 cents this year and 10 cents next year, or 15 cents this year and none next year. He added that 10 cents in each of three years also would be acceptable.

The school district has offered five-cent raises in each of two years, or several other wage formulas, including a non-retroactive 15-cent boost that was rejected last week.

If a meeting is arranged before the strike deadline, it appeared today that a compromise raise might be possible. Harrison said that the board was closest to merging the positions taken by the two negotiating teams. While the unions do not prefer a one-year settlement, since the year is almost over, it might be considered if there were indications of immediate and serious talks on the following agreement, Harrison said.

School carpenters and painters receive $6801 a year or $3.26 hourly based on 2080 hours (52 weeks times 40 hours). The laborers and chauffeurs are paid $6009 or $2.74.

Elementary school custodians are paid $5519 or $2.65 (lead men) and $5279 or $2.53 (assistants). Matrons receive $4629 or $2.22, as do Logan annex and administrative office custodians.

Junior high custodians receive $5739 or $2.75 (Coolidge-Prather lead men), $5639 or $2.71 (Central lead men), and $5279 or $2.53 (assistants). High school assistants also are paid $5279, hourly based on 2080 hours (52 weeks times 40 hours). Weekend men receiving $5499 or $2.64 and the lead man $5054 or $2.48.

A 15-cent hourly raise would cost the school district about $47,500.

Whether a court injunction could be obtained and, if so, how soon, remains to be determined. The Illinois Department of Labor's discussion that once-rigid prohibitions on strikes against government agencies have been considered considerably in recent years.

Arbitration Issue

Possible intervention by the Illinois Department of Labor in seeking to force the school district into arbitration—with the union-dominated Labor Department providing the decisive arbitration—also is under study.

The alternating strike procedure is viewed as a means of taking advantage of possible delays in obtaining injunctions. An injunction against Local 88 would be ineffective against another union.

Whether school employees would lose pay for failing to work also is still to be decided by the board. The fact that some are on annual salary scales was brought out in last night's discussion.

In endorsing joint talks with all unions, board members noted that lengthy negotiations have left no respite in which the board and administration can concentrate on other educational matters besides pay. They voiced the hope that, even if future talks require a year, there would still be a year of "labor peace" during each two-year agreement.

Some Separate Talks

It was brought out that individual aspects of each pact would be respected and could be worked out in separate talks, with only cost factors considered in the joint negotiations.

Board President Ralph Fricker linked the timing of the strike plan to the board election April 11, in which he is opposed for re-election by candidates endorsed by school employees. He told the board he was warned a month ago that there would be a strike during the election week.

In the decision to send the letters to the agents, mentioning that some of the union proposals had been "favorably considered" by the board, the 5-0 vote was cast by Fricker, Ronald Dillard, Ralph Buske, Monroe Worthen and Robert Spengler. Daniel Linder abstained; Secretary George Siddham was absent.

Dillard, a former teacher, acknowledged in reply to a question by Spengler that he is still a member of Teachers' Local 743.

DOWNSTATE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

By C. A. FRAZER
Compiled from area reports by the Southern Illinois University Information Service.

BASS GO FOR FOOD AS WATER TEMPERATURE RISES

In the springtime, fish and fishermen in southern Illinois watch the thermometer. When the water temperature tops 50 degrees, it's time to go to work. Fifty degrees is the magic number, especially for bass, says William M. Lewis, director of the Fisheries Research Laboratory at Southern Illinois University. Crappie start feeding at somewhat colder temperatures while bluegills prefer it a good bit warmer.

Lewis, who admits there are many exceptions to any generalizations, says at 50 degrees the bass shake off the lethargy of winter and begin to take an interest in food. That's a scarce item in the early spring; no hatch of baby fish, no insects, no frogs or tadpoles, so it is largely a matter of what forage he can find. That's pretty likely to be crayfish, down on the bottom of the pond. "Therefore, it's a good idea to try fishing at all depths," Lewis says. "You don't know where the fish have found food."

Spawning At 70 Degrees
As the water temperature rises, food becomes more abundant and the bass feed readily until the temperature reaches about 70 degrees, when they start to spawn. During the spawning period, about two weeks, bass feed sparingly.

After spawning the bass feed again, but by this time there is an abundance of natural food to compete with the fisherman's offerings. When the water temperature reaches 80 degrees feeding slackens off.

Bluegills spawn at 80 degrees rather than 70, Lewis says. Not much work has been done on the feeding or spawning habits of crappie but in general they become active at colder water temperatures than either the bass or bluegill.

In the springtime, water in southern Illinois lakes is about the same temperature, regardless of depth. As it warms up, the water stratifies.

Lewis gave a quick and fairly accurate method of estimating the upper layer water temperature without immersing a thermometer.

"It will be close to the mean air temperature," he said, "midway between the high and low temperatures for a 24-hour period."

Lewis and his colleagues at the Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory are waiting for warmer weather to start their 1964 study projects. One involves a continuation of selective utilization of forage organisms and another involves inducing channel catfish to spawn, then planted in artificial lakes.

S. Vietnam Nearing Victory Over Communists, Club Told

Outlining a concept that could be summed up as "it's always darkest before the dawn," Army Capt. Bernard Powell told Granite City Rotarians Tuesday that South Vietnam forces supported by the U.S. are closer to victory now than Viet Cong rebels appear to be making rapid progress.

The veteran of Vietnam service said rebel activity has followed the classic Communist pattern, starting with establishment of agents who become a permanent part of particular communities. Outwardly, they spread rumors to shake confidence in the government. Secretly, they go even farther, breaking machinery and damaging roads in the government buildings, utility lines and transportation facilities.

This phase has been started, and U.S. military advisers hope that the Viet Cong will continue to be landed against them.

Current fear is that the Communists will become more cautious and return to Phase Two, which could lead to a further long stalemate, he explained.

Capt. Powell, an Infantry officer whose 18 years in the Army include service as an enlisted man, displayed spears and spikes planted in the ground by the rebels to disable South Vietnam soldiers and their American advisers. He also showed knives and other weapons as well as photographs of Vietnam and the fighting there.

The speaker, who returned to the U.S. in 1963, is information officer of the 11th Army Corps at St. Louis. He is originally from Chicago. He was introduced by Howard Wellman, program chairman.

Madison Seeks Study Of Rt. 111-35 Traffic

The Madison city council has decided to join Granite City in seeking a traffic safety study by the state highway division at the intersection of Highway 111 and State Aid 35.

The intersection has been the scene of many major accidents, and Mayor Stephen Macrae said adequate traffic controls should be provided, including a four-way stop if necessary.

He said he received a letter from Granite City Mayor Leonard Davis asking that Madison cooperate in the request to the state. The Venice city council also may consider such action at its meeting Friday night.

Next phase, the speaker, related, is "hit and run" killing and destruction carried out by hastily gathered units which immediately disband and return to their normal occupations. He said this program began drawing to an end in Vietnam last summer. He noted that those carrying out the sneak attacks loudly criticized the government for not protecting the public from the attacks.

Light In Final Phase

Third phase, formation of standing armies, is necessary for the Communist rebels to take over South Vietnam. He is also the easiest to combat, Capt. Powell said.

This phase has been started, and U.S. military advisers hope that the Viet Cong will continue to be landed against them.

No Changes Made In Nameoki Twp. 1964-65 Budgets

The 1964-65 budgets for Nameoki township were not changed during Tuesday evening's public hearing which was followed by a regular meeting of the township board of auditors.

The budgets, totaling $157,992 for town, relief and road purposes, are to be presented for approval at 7 p.m. next Tuesday in the town hall along Route 162 where the annual town meeting will be held.

During the annual meeting, residents of the township will be given an opportunity to vote directly on the amounts in the budgets.

The amounts also are virtually unchanged from the past fiscal year, and other business is planned for the annual town meeting. A report and recommendation is expected on the need for a township dog pound.

Dog Pound Estimate
A preliminary construction cost figure was given as $14,000 during Tuesday evening's session, but it is to be reviewed and possibly revamped for discussion at a regular board meeting Monday night in advance of the annual town meeting.

The $14,000 construction cost is for the building only, and does not include the grounds, operational costs or maintenance. The town board is hopeful of a less expensive solution to the dog problem in time for the annual meeting.

The budgets to be submitted to township residents for approval Tuesday evening include $31,000 for relief, $33,245 for town purposes and $93,007 for roads, along with $2750 for employee retirement. Only the retirement budget shows an increase in the amount of $550.

Pollution Conference Stated
Supervisor Harry Briggs was authorized to confer with the attorney general's office in Springfield regarding any legal action which might be taken by the township should chemical reaction cause air pollution at Granite City Steel Company's sewage treatment facilities which are to be located in Nameoki township at Horseshoe Lake.

He also is to confer with Wenzel Harness, Canteen township supervisor, for a joint effort to halt the dumping of St. Louis debris along the township's boundaries and the threat of filling a drainage ditch.

Further reports are to be made concerning drainage facilities for Sken street in East Madison and for possible widening of Parish street, also in East Madison.

Station Windows Broken
A vandal threw two stones into Oscar's service station, 12th and State streets, Madison, Monday night or Tuesday morning, breaking windows 30 x 32 and 10x32 inches in size.

Trying too hard to get something for nothing often gets people free room and board.

The workshop is open "to music consultants, classroom teachers, prospective music teachers, and college students in music as an avocation, and all educators interested in expressive and creative movement," according to Miss Dorothy Tullos, SWIU fine arts lecturer who is in charge of the workshop.

Local Men To Develop Bethalto Subdivision

A state corporation charter for development of a 120-lot subdivision at Bethalto was issued this week to Quad-Cityans, including Dr. John E. Lee, Venice mayor; A. R. Cooper, local developer of Glenview and other areas; Edward N. Juncos, engineer, and William L. Beatty, local attorney.

The charter calls for the Bethalto Hills Development Co. to be headquartered at Beatty's office, 2038 Edison avenue. The firm may issue 1000 shares of common stock with a par value of $10. It will buy, sell, improve, develop and deal in real and personal property.

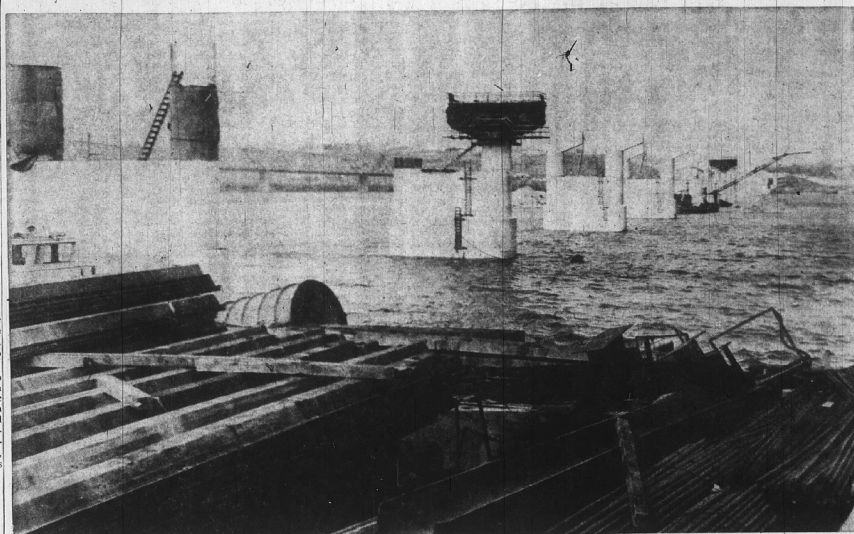

A not-for-profit charter was issued by the state to the Church of Christ of Madison, Inc., 1536 Fourth street, Madison. The incorporators are Leland Chandler, Roy Smothers and Leonard Lane with George L. Galvo and William E. Johnson, 1930 State street, as correspondents.

Two persons received emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital following mishaps occurring on Wednesday.

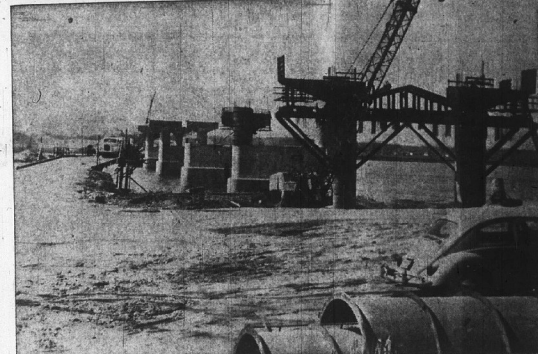

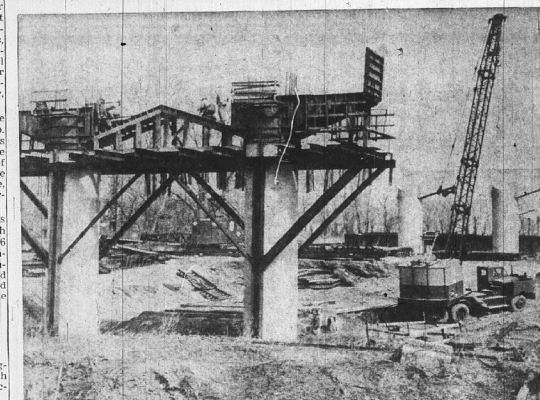

They are Faye Kirgen, 27, of 2074 Fourteenth street who suffered a swollen finger after catching it in a door, and Deborah Johnson, nine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, 1713 Spruce street, who fell at the roller skating rink and injured her left wrist.

Route 270 Bridges Over River, Canal Show Progress

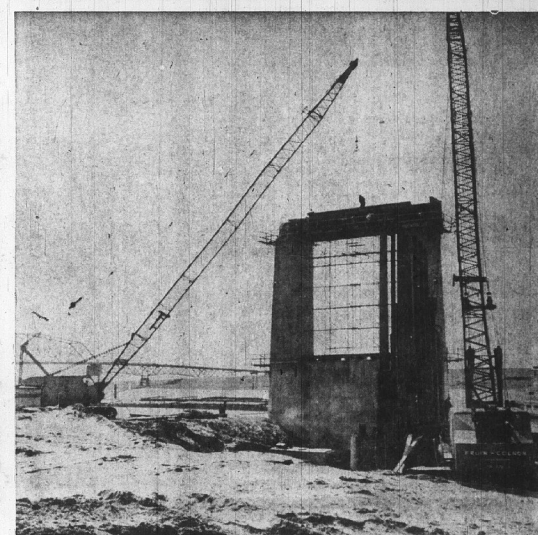

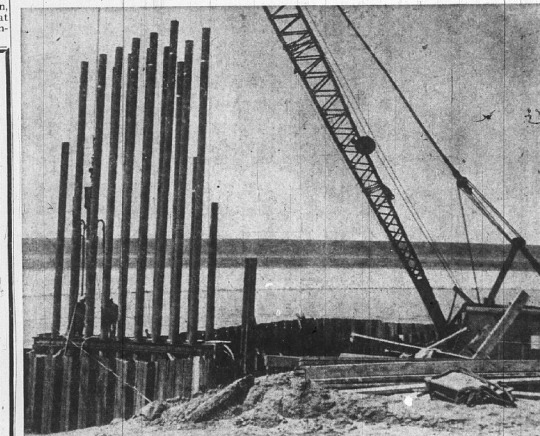

'NEARLY COMPLETED are all of the 44 huge concrete supports for the $7,000,000 bridge under construction (left) over the Mississippi River a short distance north of the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks bridge (background). The new river bridge and another over the Chain of Rocks canal will carry new Interstate Route 270 which is being completed west of Mitchell.

LOOKING WEST, the photo below shows concrete-pouring operations on the east bank of the river where the bridge supports are still being constructed. The roadway to the left leads to a loading dock where concrete-mixer trucks dump concrete onto barges to be taken to midstream supports. The crane is used to pour concrete into the tops of forms.

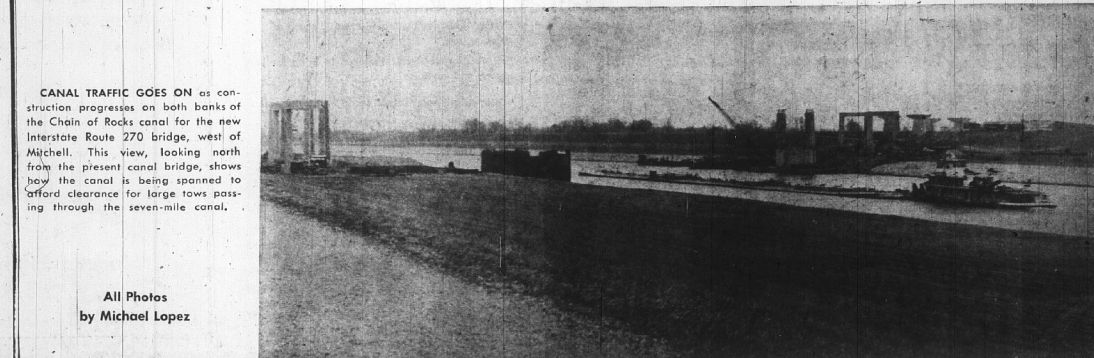

ON-SHORE CONCRETE PIERS for the east approach to the new river bridge are being capped to prepare for the installation of the roadbed decking. The concrete piers will provide year-round travel despite high water stages of the river.

WORKING HIGH IN THE AIR are construction workers capping the water's edge support for the new Route 270 bridge over the Chain of Rocks canal. In the background is the present Bypass 66-40 canal bridge.

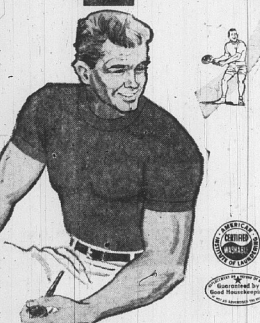

CANAL TRAFFIC GOES ON as construction progresses on both banks of the Chain of Rocks canal for the new Interstate Route 270 bridge, west of Mitchell. Board To Study Protest By 10 Lincoln Teachers

A proposed conference between Venice School Supt. John O. Pier and a group of Lincoln school teachers Tuesday was canceled to give some of the faculty members more time to locate teaching certificates and other records showing the fields in which they are qualified.

Data on their qualifications is to be considered next Monday night by the Venice school board, along with their protest over receiving dismissal notices. Ten of the 11 dismissed effective at the end of this term say they are on furlough and should be considered for positions held by non-tenured teachers at the Venice schools.

The board also has pending a decision on whether to operate Lincoln high school next year. This is expected to affect the number of teachers that will be retained in 1964-65, since consolidation of Venice-Lincoln high school classes could eliminate some faculty positions.

PTA To Hear Candidates

School board candidates will speak during a meeting of the Granite City Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations at 7:30 tonight at Lake grade school.

No Assessments To Be Made On Canines, Boats

Urban township tax assessors will not attempt to collect a county license tax on dogs, Venice Cruse, Granite City assessor, reported after a meeting of the 24 township assessors Monday in Edinburgville.

Assessments of personal property began Wednesday, and assessors also decided against assessing boats registered with the state conservation commission this year and against changing policies in assessing automobiles.

Cruse said that it was the opinion of all of the assessors that the legislation providing for county licensing and tagging of city dogs will be repealed by the next General Assembly, and he will make no effort to conduct a door-to-door campaign to collect licenses on dogs.

Urban Rabies Control

He noted that the urban areas have their own rabies control and license ordinances. However, he said county dog tags and licenses are available at his office for anyone wishing to purchase them.

Rural area assessors charged that residents of city-townships are abandoning their dogs in the rural areas of the county, causing problems to farmers.

It has been proposed to assess motorboats since copies of the state registration list have been received from the conservation department. But the list is not broken down by townships. Cruse said, and it would be difficult to pick out the boats owned locally for 1964 assessments. "Perhaps next year we can make a uniform assessment on boats."

Assess Old Cars?

It has been the policy of urban assessors to discontinue assessing automobiles after they are nine years old as the fair market value of such cars generally is too low. Rural assessors said they had a minimum assessment of $70 for such vintage cars.

Cruse said he is of the opinion that this is unfair, especially in cases where owners must pay city licenses and for parking in business districts.

The assessors received a listing of automobiles showing 73

Radio Aerial Broken

Cecil Barker, 2118 Delmar avenue, reported that between 7 p.m. and midnight Tuesday vandals broke the aerial off his 1961 car while the car was parked in front of his house.

Barker said he has models of American cars and 62 models of foreign cars. Burton Bernard, assistant state's attorney, discussed efforts to settle railroad tax objection cases.

Former GC Resident, Mrs. Reining, Dies

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Susie Prince Reining, 79, formerly of Granite City, at Mount Vernon. Mrs. Reining, who lived here from 1926 to 1940, died last week at the Mount Vernon TB Hospital. She was born in Benton.

Attending the services was Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Voss, Jr., 2425 Adams street; Mrs. Vira Green, 2613 East 23rd street; and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lorenz and daughter, Barbara.

John McElwain, 80, Dies Suddenly At Home

John Edward McElwain, 80, 1802 Fourth street, Madison, died from arteriosclerosis at 7 p.m. Tuesday at his home. Mr. McElwain, who had been walking about the house only 10 minutes before he died, complained of not feeling well Monday. He was in bed when he died.

Born in Pennsylvania, Mr. McElwain had been a Madison resident for 58 years. He had retired 15 years ago from American Car and Foundry where he worked 45 years as a clerk.

He is survived by his wife, Edith; a son, Robert, Edinburgville; two daughters, Mrs. Steve (Jane) Staikoff, Granite City, and Mrs. W. C. (Marion) Campbell, Dixon, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Frank (Gennie) Brown, Madison; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

An obituary notice is given elsewhere in this issue.

A one-inch rainfall on an acre of ground would amount to about 113 tons.

Car Windows Shot Out

Miss Celestine Lucas, 2200 Delmar avenue, told police that holes were shot through the front and rear windows of her 1961 auto, perhaps with a pellet gun Monday night. The rear glass was shattered.

Hit-And-Run Accident

Rhea E. Davis, 2041 Rhodes street, reported at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday that as he was driving north on State street, a hit-and-run driver moving along 24th street struck the front of her car damaging it.

Annual Advisory Board Report

Salvation Army Served 17,107 Persons In Past Year

Activities of the Salvation Army in 1963 numbered 897 with total attendance of 17,107, it was reported Tuesday during the annual dinner meeting of the advisory board.
Capt. Mildred Walker said the board included 15 members, classes and recreational programs for youth.
The annual meeting at St. Nicholas Memorial Methodist Church was attended by 30 board members and guests. It was with reluctance that the board accepted the resignation of member Harry Johnson who was the 1963 chairman. Johnson, who is the Madison postmaster, said the press of business required his resignation. Named to the board to succeed him was Joseph Richardson of Madison, an official of Glick's Department stores.
The new chairman is Chris Pashoff, manager of the Washington Theater. Other board officers are Albert Michel, vice chairman; Arthur Harman, secretary; and Roy Lynn, treasurer.

Aiding Youth Stressed

The speaker of the evening was Lt. Kristian Andersen, who is in charge of the Salvation Army recreation program in St. Louis.
He pointed out that the purpose of the program is to train the youth of a community to become the leaders of tomorrow through direction and counseling.
The youth activities at the local Salvation Army headquarters, 10th street and Grand avenue, and at its recreation building in the 1800 block of State street include not only the public religious services but also organized recreation for boys and girls, the junior age children's program, Sunday school classes for all ages, a teenage program, the Sunbeam and Guard troops for girls, music classes both instrumental and vocal and also programs for adults—the Women's League, Golden Age, Senior Fellowship group and a class for systematic Bible instruction.
Capt. Walker reported that in the services to youth, 317 hours were devoted to the recreational, educational and character building activities, for a combined total of 8353 youngsters; while 190 hours were given to supervising recreations with an attendance of 3604, for an overall total attendance of 13,977 youngsters.
Attendance for the adult programs totaled 3170.

473 Families Aided

Services given by the Salvation Army last year included aid to 473 families. There were 99 emergency grocery orders, 337 persons were supplied with clothing, 61 were given shoes, 281 requests for bedding and furniture were filled and nine were given fuel.
For transients, five were given lodging, 191 were given meals and two were aided with transportation.
Under the program for "League of Mercy" there were visits to 3855 persons for a total of 282 hours, and 1800 hours were spent to distribute articles and gifts.
The Golden Agers program included 10 dinners served to a total number of 397 persons.
In addition, the Salvation Army conducted its annual "Tree of Lights" program to provide food and gift baskets to needy families at Christmas time. The campaign, headed by E. A. Karandeff, brought in $8333.
With the funds and other donations, 396 food baskets were distributed to aid 1552 persons. In addition, 1740 toys and gifts were presented and 150 children were given clothing and shoes.
Special recognition was given during the banquet to organizations that aided in the "Tree of Lights" belting program, with the Granite City Rotary Club.

Designated as the "champion beltingers."

Other groups receiving awards were the Business & Professional Women's Club, the Moose Lodge, Utility Workers Local 405, the Salvation Army Guards and the Salvation Army Scouts. Miniature bells were presented to the groups by E. A. Karandeff.
Other recognition awards went to the Eagles Lodge and Auxiliary, radio station Wgnu and the Press-Record.
The need to expand the facilities of the Salvation Army to provide larger and more modern quarters for the year-round program again was stressed by the board members. An appeal was made for memorial gifts toward erecting a modern Citadel building to meet the community's expanding needs.
The annual financial report showed receipts of $19,986 from the United Fund, $5056 from special donors and a balance of $1194, for a total of $34,955. Disbursements totaled $32,604, including $8226 for the staff, $5010 for building upkeep and rent, $3866 for administrative costs, $13,919 for activities and $853 for miscellaneous items and general and restricted balances.

County Sheriff Probes Alleged Policy Racket

The Madison county sheriff's office is investigating the alleged spread of an East St. Louis policy racket into the Quad-Cities. Investigators are seeking a Venice woman who has obtained a federal gambling tax stamp but who does not live at the address listed by federal officials. She is believed to be in charge of the Madison county operation, heading a battery of "writers" who accept daily bets in the numbers racket. Winners are determined in St. Clair county and East St. Louis.

The racket, believed to produce $200,000 a year, allegedly is operated by associates of Frank "Buster" Workman, area gang boss.

U.S. Grand Jury Indicts 3 GC Men In Bogus Bill Case

(Special from Springfield)

Three Granite City men were indicted Tuesday by the federal grand jury in Springfield on charges of counterfeiting or passing $20 bills.

They are William M. Davis, 37, of 3420 Aubrey avenue, operator of a paint shop and a former Air Force map maker; Ralph Harris, 44, of 2629 Madison avenue, described as a housing contractor; and Leslie Walter Caton Jr., 28, of 3317 S. Wilshire drive, a meat cutter.

Federal grand jury action is pending against two other men in Tallahassee, Fla., where they were arrested Feb. 21 with $36,000 in fake $20 bills in their car. They are Amos Ray Gaskill, 22, of 1925 Fifth street, East

Madison, and Robert L. Howard, 22, of 2133 Miracle avenue. U.S. Attorney Leon Scroggins said Davis and Harris were charged with counterfeiting and Caton with passing one of the bills Nov. 17 in a Springfield drug store. Scroggins said other bogus bills turned up in Galesburg, Quincy and Decatur, and a secret service agent said more were passed in southern Illinois before Harris, Howard and Gaskill were nabbed on an alleged bill-passing spree in February which took them from Texas to Florida. Davis was arrested Feb. 23 in Racine, Wis. At the time of the February arrest, secret service agents from St. Louis impounded an offset printing press from Davis' print shop at 2012 East 20th street and a camera from his home. The equipment is being held as evidence.

Agents said that about $250,000 in fake bills were printed but that the counterfeiters destroyed most of them as being too faulty. They said the bills that were passed also were faulty and should have been easily spotted, particularly by checking the serial number and the seal.

No dates for arraignment or trial of Davis, Harris and Caton were announced in Springfield. They are free on bond.

County Commission Postpones Meeting

The first meeting of the 22-member county building study commission was postponed Tuesday and was reset for 10 a.m. next Thursday at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

Rev. Paul Starkey, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ here and chairman of the commission, said most members favored a daytime meeting in order to properly inspect the county structures. This week's meeting had been scheduled at night.

Rev. Starkey said the commission will inspect one building at a time in separate sessions, and next week's inspection will be at the county jail. "We plan to have an engineer accompany us," the chairman added.

No Charges On Reported Molesting Of Children

A report of the molesting of two Venice girls, aged five and eight, at a Weaver street home during the weekend was investigated by police but resulted in no charges.

The mother of the younger girl made the original complaint, naming a North Venice man, but said yesterday she would not prosecute. She related that she had taken the girls to a physician, who said they had not been harmed.

Street Improvements

The mayor urged strong consideration by the aldermen in adoption of a street improvement program as a follow-up to storm sewer installation.

He favored a "permanent cure" or permanent streets which would cost more than $500,000, over a program of continued maintenance. He said good streets provide for better neighborhoods. "Streets make your community."

Mayor Maras also called for quick action in the street program, which would include replacement of sunken or broken curbs, so that specifications can be drawn and bids let before the construction season is over.

The high cost would bite seriously into the city's surplus funds of about $2½ million, earmarked for construction of an industrial plant and an incinerator, but the mayor said if the remaining funds would be insufficient, the city could implement its cash balance with revenue bonds.

Cover Catech Basin

Alderman Benjamin Bosworth called attention to lack of barricades or covers over Catech basin, which he said are four to five feet deep and four to five feet square and present a hazard to pedestrians.

Barricades are located on the street side of the basin, he said, but they still constitute a danger, especially to children.

The mayor said that G. H. Stienberg, contractor on the city's storm sewer project, apparently is unaware of this and it will be called to his attention.

4-H Group Will Hold
Achievement Night

The 4-H girls group at the Lee Wright Homes in Venice will hold an achievement night next Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the recreation center.

Mrs. Mary Knecht, assistant adviser for the Madison County Home Bureau, is leader of the group. All mothers of the girls taking part are invited to attend.

The first chemical process ever discovered by man probably was heating wood to convert it into carbon or charcoal. Charcoal fuel, burning without flame or smoke, has twice the heating power of wood.

Fire can destroy the Bond...
but not your savings

All that the owner of this charred U.S. Savings Bond has to do is mail the remains to the Treasury Department, with as much more information as he can give—serial number, and date and place of issue. He'll get a fresh Bond to replace it. No charge.

The Treasury has grown accustomed to providing this sort of service. In the past 20 years it has replaced over 1,300,000 Savings Bonds that have been lost, stolen, burned or mistakenly tossed out with the trash.

Every U.S. Savings Bond sold is registered in the name of its owner, and a microfilm record made. So the government can check when, where, and in whose name a Bond was purchased—even if there isn't a burned crisp to send them.

This assurance against loss is another of the many reasons why Americans now hold over $47 billion in Series B and H Savings Bonds. The money they're saving is providing for their personal security. And it's also helping to build the strength of America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

U.S. Savings Bonds are a good way to provide for your future. Buy them where you bank or work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Smiles, Education, Mothers To Be Topics

The 1964 Madison County Teachers Institute will be held Friday in Alton and Collinsville, with Quad-City teachers assigned to the Collinsville session at Webster junior high school. Public schools will be closed for the day.

The program will open with an invocation by Rev. George O. Ankarlo of the Church of God, Church, Maryville, and with announcements.

Speakers will be Dr. Maynard K. Hine, dean of the Indiana University school of dentistry, on "Checked Your Smile Lately?"; Norman W. Beck, Monroe county superintendent of schools, on "Impressions of European Education 1963"; State Sen. Edward C. Eberspacher, chairman of the school problems commission of Illinois, on "Common School Education from the State Point of View"; and Mrs. Muriel Wolfson Bach, Chicago, who will present a group of portraits of mothers of famous persons.

NORMAN W. BECK, Monroe county superintendent of schools, who will be a speaker at the Madison County Teachers Institute Friday at Collinsville.

MURIEL WOLFSON BACH, Chicago actress, who will present a program on dramatic portraits of mothers of famous people at the Teachers Institute.

Dr. Hine has served as president of all professional organizations in the field of dentistry. He recently received the "distinguished dental alumnus award of the year" from the University of Illinois Alumni Association. He received his master's degree from the U. of I. spent two years in research at the University and remained there for eight years in the department of oral pathology and periodontics.

Dr. Hine and Mrs. Bach also are on the program at the Alton session, in addition to G. H. Sternberg sr., Granite City contractor who will speak on "What I Expect from Teachers"; and Dr. Samuel Shepard Jr., assistant superintendent, Banneret group, St. Louis, who will discuss "Teachers and Parents Working Together for Academic Achievement."

The two sessions are to adjourn at 1 p.m.

K. Of C.'s Set Family Breakfast For Sunday

Tri-Cities Council 1098 of the Knights of Columbus will hold family corporate communion and breakfast at the 8 o'clock Mass Sunday at St. Elizabeth Church. Reservations for the breakfast are being accepted at the K. of C. hall. Members of the fourth degree assembly are to participate in full regalia.

Candidates Oppose Endorsement Of 2

Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council endorsement of two Granite City school board candidates was criticized this week Sunday at St. Elizabeth Church. In a letter to Council President Edwin Reiske, Candidate Jack Stowell said, "This refers to our two telephone conversations, the first conversation informing you and requesting permission to speak on a competitive basis to the members and delegates of your council."

"The second was after I learned that your council had discriminated taken action regarding the coming school board election. This letter further advises that I refuse to speak to the members and delegates on the basis of this discrimination."

"I wish to further advise that I have been a member of the AFL-CIO for a good many years. The labor movement has fought management for protection of jobs and anti-discrimination. You have endorsed discrimination."

A statement by John B. Moss, another school board candidate, relates that "at a recent Trades Council meeting, two aspiring candidates were endorsed for support by members of organized labor."

"Several of the members present were not residents of School District No. Nine. No voting member, unless a resident of District Nine, is a qualified voter to endorse any candidate out of his or her respective district."

"But in Granite City, most anything is legal. If there seems to be a luscious plum, political appointments or what have you, political patronage, appointments, contracts not up to par in quality or durability, stress in construction, etc., should be bypassed for a healthier tax expenditure. Our nation was set up and our constitution was written from the decisions of great men forming a two-party system, a democratic republic in fairness to all taxpayers, let us keep it that way."

"Our only hope to stabilize the economy, defeat the boss rule of Communism and keep ideologies and political bureaucracies out of our educational institutions is to keep out one-party rule."

"United, we will stand and grow. Divided, we are sure to fall into the clutches of a horde of tax-grabbing money-changers of the political temple."

"Voters desirous of changing this should get out and support a candidate who is not a rubber stamp or political puppet for any individual, group or organizations."

"Candidates who spend several hundred dollars to be elected to a non-salaried office cannot hope to have a clear conscience. Honesty, integrity and efficiency are a must in the administration of our board of education problems."

The Trades and Labor Council has endorsed the candidates of Dr. E. W. Walton and Robert Crider in the April 11 election. Members of the teachers' local are regarded as backing Richard Neumann and Boyd Presley. Other candidates besides Stowell and Moss are Board President Ralph Fricker, incumbent, and Frank Melisio.

Terms of Fricker and Secretary George Stitham, who is not seeking re-election, expire this year. Holdover board members are Robert Spengler, Monroe Worflein, Daniel Linier, Ralph Buske and Ronald Dillard.

Duelling Was Rough

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

If visiting cemeteries indicates a morbid taste, what is it that prompts a person to visit one time duelling grounds? Anyway, they have a certain appeal. A recent stop in Belleville reviewed an interest in the last duel fought in Illinois. That is, it was the last one fought on soil definitely claimed in 1813.

Thinking about the Belleville duel also brought to mind visits to other localities where men once went to fight duels. Among places vividly remembered are the Garden of Versailles and a locality pointed out as Chalk Farm, in the Bois de Boulogne near Paris. Hundreds of personal accounts were squared with finality at these two places. Another ground visited was in Phoenix Park, Dublin, where the Irish repaired to uphold personal honor with swords and pistols instead of with skillfully wielded shillelachs or "Irish confetti."

Then came the "heights of Weehawken" in New Jersey where Aaron Burr killed Alexander Hamilton. After that was the ground about a great live oak on the shore of Lake Pontchartrain at New Orleans. Here a good half hundred men forever settled their differences. There were many other noted duelling grounds in the South, for duelling remained a practice until the Civil War period.

Local Area Duelling Ground
The most widely known duelling ground in the Illinois region still bearing a name reminiscent of its gory days, is Bloody Island almost beneath the approach to the free bridge at East St. Louis.

At the time when duelling held sway, neither Illinois nor Missouri claimed its ownership. Then along came an officer with the Army Corps of Engineers who drove a row of piling across the channel that separated the island from Illinois. The obstructed channel promptly filled in, thus making the willow clad island with its gruesome name a part of this state.

Duelling, that is formal combat between two men armed with deadly weapons, has been in vogue for centuries. Apparently it began as early as the sixth century when such combats were held to decide property rights and sometimes were ordered by those legally empowered to administer justice. They seemingly thought that "right makes might."

About the year 800 duelling came into use as a method of settling real or imagined personal grievances. The general practice of duelling to vindicate the challenger's own character, the virtue of a lady, or to eliminate an undesirable rival, moved to the British Isles with the Normans. For this same purpose it came to America with the English and French and was practiced in both Canada and the United States, more frequently in the South.

Early Duelling Highly Formal
Duelling early became a highly formal affair, the subject of many books. Prior to 1471 fifty such books had appeared with many more since then. France, Italy and Ireland each had its "Code Duello," a book on duelling etiquette and procedures. A former governor of South Carolina produced an American version in 1838. In all codes it was necessary to be in the proper social status.

Duels distinctly were first-family affairs and closed to others. Thus Voltaire, not of noble birth, but one of his country's great men, dared to send a challenge to a man of noble birth who promptly sent six servants to flog the presumptuous Voltaire. Many European men of note died in duelling. Even women, using swords, daggers, lances and pistols are known to have fought.

Before the practice had run its course in America many prominent men became involved, most often as participants. Commodore Barron had killed Stephen Decatur, brilliant naval officer, on May 22, 1820. Aaron Burr shot Alexander Hamilton to death on July 11, 1804. Andrew Jackson, though seriously wounded, calmly shot his adversary, Charles Dickinson, as the latter, having failed to kill Jackson with a first shot, was required by the Code to await his turn for another chance. Few duellists exhibited greater composure or sheer determination than Jackson did on that occasion. This killing does not seem to have done Jackson any political harm.

There were many others. Albert Sidney Johnson, later a Confederate Army general, fought in Texas. James Bowie, fashioner of the celebrated knife that bears his name, tried a hand at it. Thomas Hart Benton, famed senator from Missouri, killed his rival, or rivals, on Bloody Island. Pettie and Eddle killed each other on the island in 1831, with many gathered to witness the affair.

Illinois claimed only a scant duelling record until Lt. Robert E. Lee, later to become general of the Confederate States Army, drove a row of piling across the narrow Illinois channel and thus definitely gave us the largest that went with Bloody Island. This made the Illinois record shamefully impressive.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

How to get away from it all including the high cost of travel!

If you're looking for a way to get the whole family there and back on a small vacation budget, this is the station wagon that can do it.

You see, a Chevy II is one of the most inexpensive wagons you can own. It goes so many miles between gas stops you'll think we built in a spare tank.

Garage stops, too, are far, far apart. And you get 76 cu. ft. of cargo space for less money than you'd expect to pay for most sedans.

Big enough to handle fat rowboats and tall fishing poles. Powerful enough to tote fully loaded trailers. And all Chevy II's come with Chevrolet's money-saving, easy-care features. Like Body by Fisher, rust-resisting flush-and-dry rocker panels, battery-saving Delco-tron generator and self-adjusting brakes.

Besides wagons, of course, there are Chevy II sedans and coupes. The Super Sport Coupe comes with a wide range of engines, bucket seats, door-to-door carpeting and either an extra-cost floor-mounted Powerglide or 4-speed transmission. So although Chevy II's are economical to buy and own, they certainly don't look it.

And now that it's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's, you'll never find a better time to look into Chevy II. Look under its hood. Slam its solid doors. Bounce on its thickly padded foam-cushioned seats. But above all else—try it on the highway. It'll give you a good run for your money.

GC Seniors To Present 'The Miser' Next Week

The Granite City high school seniors will present their play, "The Miser," by Moliere, at 8 p.m. April 10 and 11 in the school auditorium.

Moliere, a Frenchman who lived during the 1600s, is one of the world's outstanding dramatists, and "The Miser" is one of the funniest plays in dramatic literature. It was brought out by Miss Mary Blackburn, speech department director.

The son and daughter of the miser fall in love and are about to declare their intentions when the miser, announces his own wedding plans—he wants to wed the girl with whom his son is in love and he had arranged for a wealthy friend to marry his daughter.

After a few rollicking laps around the block in which the miser's hidden treasure figures, it is revealed that the rich friend is the long lost father of the boy who loves the miser's daughter and of the girl who is loved by the miser's son. Young love remains.

The part of Harpagon, the miser, will be played by Mike McCarty. Other roles in the cast are Becky Shaw, Ken Ferro, Louise Becherer, Pam McCollum, Eric Robertson, Richard McKinney, Wayne Hancock, Kenneth Jones, Haig Nagochian, Barry Lewis.

The old manse should be completely razed in at least a month and added that construction should begin on the new manse in about two months. Consideration was first made by the church to raze the present manse, but the church decided it needed a building that could be more permanent.

Artists Invited to YMCA Sessions Each Wednesday

Interested artists are being invited to attend the Wednesday Art Class sessions at the YMCA from 1 to 3 p.m. each week.

Mrs. Bonnie Fuller, local artist, is the instructor and said the class is presently working with pastels. Models whose ages vary are present and next week the model will be Miss Judy Belshe.

Next week's class in portraiture is being planned to aid beginners since much interest in beginning art has been shown, Mrs. Fuller said.

Plans also are in the tentative stage for an art appreciation class in which famous artists and their works will be studied.

Slides of high quality color prints will be used and trips to the St. Louis Art Museum and various galleries are to be made, Mrs. Fuller said.

Talent is not necessary for the class—just a desire to learn more about art, Mrs. Fuller said. Arrangements to attend may be made by calling Mrs. Fuller at TR 7-0350, or Mrs. Lee Pfaff at the YMCA, TR 6-7200.

HOW TO GET MORE FOOD VALUE FOR YOUR DOLLARS

Here are ten suggestions that may help you get more food value for your dollars:

1. When buying meat, consider the amount of lean meat in the cut, not the cost per pound. Some cuts contain bone, gristle and fat waste. For example, ground beef and beef short ribs may cost the same per pound, but ground beef will give at least twice as many servings per pound as short ribs.

2. Chicken and turkey have a large proportion of bone to lean meat but are often bargains compared with other meats. Plan to use them in soups and often low in cost.

3. Eggs are usually a less expensive source of nutrients than most meats. Dry beans and peanut butter also are inexpensive alternatives for meat.

4. Beef, lamb and pork liver give unusually high nutritive returns for money spent.
5. Study bread labels before you buy. Choose bread for weight and food value, not by size of loaf. Look for bread that is made of whole grains or enriched and that contain milk.

6. Buy packaged cereals or any other packaged food by weight, not by size of package. To compare prices, first look for the weights listed on the labels and note the prices. Then figure the costs for an ounce or a pound.

7. Ready-to-serve cereals in multipacks of small boxes may cost two or three times more per ounce than the same cereal in a large box. Sugar-coated, ready-to-serve cereals cost more per ounce than many common, unsweetened ones and furnish more calories, but less other food value.

8. Nonfat dry milk and evaporated milk cost considerably less per quart, when reconstituted, than whole fluid milk, and they supply comparable amounts of calcium and protein.
9. Choose the type of pack or grade in a canned product that suits your cooking method. It is thrifty to buy canned tomatoes of low market grade for stews and sauces. A can of solid white meat tuna costs more than the same sized can of grated light meat tuna. You may prefer the solid pack for a salad and the grated pack for casseroles and sandwich fillings.

10. Consider your time and the quality of the finished product in deciding between convenience foods—those with more than usual services added—and unserviced ones. Compare prices to see whether it pays to prepare a product yourself from basic ingredients. Sometimes it does not. How much you enjoy cooking and how much time you can spend will influence your choice.

Science to Alter Modes Of Phoning by 2000 A.D.

Quad-Cities' telephone service in 2000 A.D. probably will go beyond what even telephone scientists foresee today, according to Paul Stout, Southwestern Bell manager here.

Stout said, "The year 2000 might ring in with neither dials nor push-buttons. Instead, you may just speak the number you want into a wall microphone which electronically understands and routes your call to its destination."

He predicts, "Whether you get your party by buttons, dials or voice infections, you will likely be able to call directly any other telephone in the world."

Continuing, he said, "By the year 2000 there will be many times more telephones in the world than there are today and that many more people will be making overseas calls. This means we will need a great number of circuits to handle overseas messages. In addition to cable and radio circuits we have today, large numbers of global circuits will come from satellite communications systems."

"Phonovision Possible" Stout said Quad-Cities will be able to see the person on the other end of the line by "phonovision." "In fact, there may be no wires connecting the two ends of the line," adding "Bell laboratories already have experimented with picture phones for which there is a big potential market."

He suggested that the picture phone could be a boon to businessmen. For example, a salesman might assemble his widely scattered sales force on a picture phone conference call to show and discuss the new fall line of sportswear.

Another phase of telephone service in 2000 A.D. would be a helpful relief of the present-day rush-hour traffic jams.

"In the big cities, we may solve part of the businessman's traffic problem by making it almost unnecessary to commute," Stout said.

Home-Office Convenience "Here's how I picture the businessman's day in 2000 A.D. He will get up, have breakfast, kiss his wife good-bye and walk out the door. But the door will lead directly into his office, not to the garage or bus stop. He will spend the day in his office a few feet from his eating and sleeping quarters.

"During the day he will see talk with and exchange written material with his business associates as if they were all in the same room. It will be easier and cheaper to do business this way than to have everyone go to a central location," Stout said.

He is certain that the average person in the year 2000 A.D. will have to be better educated than he is today since many of today's routine jobs will be replaced by jobs requiring advanced education and training. The better educated he is, Stout said, "the better equipped he is to appreciate art, literature, music and other fields of interest."

"His communications facilities will help him to enjoy and learn more about these things. He will be able to call the library, read books and consult reference material by picture phone without leaving his home."

"The finest educators of the world will be able to teach by way of closed circuit television transmitted over telephone lines. We use closed TV today for teaching, but by 2000 it will be much more widespread and much higher quality."

"By 2000 an even wider variety of business information will be sent over telephone lines. People will bank by telephone. They will write checks in magnetic ink that machines can read."

"The telephone or whatever it's called in 2000," Stout said, "will serve as master control unit around the house. It will answer the door and let one see who's there from anywhere in the house. It will also control appliances, letting one cook a meal or heat their house from remote locations."

EGG MARKET-PROFITS

To profit from today's highly competitive egg market, poultrymen must maintain a high rate of lay.

However, some poultrymen expect too much from their flocks. One owner, for example, expected flock to peak at 93% just because his previous flock had done that well.

Flocks normally peak at 80 to 85%. Anything above this top should be considered a bonus. A good rule of thumb is to try to average 67% production during the entire year.

One of the main causes of low egg production is the hen's age. Pullets generally reach maximum production between 30 and 40 weeks of age. After that their production starts to fall off no matter what the poultryman does. The main thing is to try to keep it from dropping off more than 3% a month during this period.

In diagnosing the reasons for low egg production, poultry specialists also recommend checking the flock for disease. If you suspect a disease, take a representative sample of birds to a poultry diagnostic laboratory for examination. Include both healthy and diseased birds in the sample.

After the disease has been diagnosed and treatment prescribed, allow time for the flocks to recover. However, production will seldom be as high as it was before the slump started.

Since inferior birds can also cause poor egg production, buy from a hatcheryman or grower who has a reputation for delivering high-producing, disease-free pullets. Egg producers can't afford to buy from a grower who cuts corners, because a poorly grown pullet will not lay well under even the best conditions.

There are several other factors that might decrease egg production. A pullet normally reaches her mature body weight about three months after coming into production. After that her weight should remain fairly constant or increase only slightly.

Also check the lights in the laying house. Even though the automatic timer is set properly, lights may still fail to go on or off. A burned-out fuse may go undetected for several days and cause production to fall off.

Exterior and interior parasites sometimes cause a production slump. Worms, lice and mites are the most common culprits.

Pelletized rations showed about 10% greater feed efficiency than the same rations in meal form in recent University of Illinois swine studies.

The greater feed efficiency with pellets could not be attributed to differences in feed wastage, according to U. of I. extension specialist T. B. Greshhouse speaking at the annual Swine Growers' Day last week. He pointed out that both pelleting and grain grinding benefited feed efficiency more than rates of gain in growing-finishing pigs.

Expressed in terms of gain per 1000 pounds of feed, pelletized feed produced about 25 more pounds of gain than the meal ration. Feeding finely ground corn worth an additional five pounds of gain per 1000 pounds of feed.

HINT FOR LANDSCAPING

If you're buying plants to landscape your home this spring, get your stock from your local nurseryman.

You may also use gift plants, native plants, mail-order stock, but all of these sources have their disadvantages. Gift plants may not fit into your plan. Native shrubs and trees often have straggly roots that make transplanting difficult.

With some mail-order stock, you're taking a chance on poor handling and delays en route. These plants suffer less moisture loss and shock between digging and replanting.

Nursery stock is handled in the sales yard as bare-root, balled-and-burlapped or container stock. But you'll improve your transplanting luck if you can select locally grown plants in the field. Since they're freshly dug, these plants suffer less moisture loss and shock between digging and replanting.

Average price of the 46 cattle sold at the recent ninth annual auction of the Madison County Hereford Breeders Association at Highland was $256. The offering was mostly calves, with about 10% being yearlings.

Average of the 19 bulls in the sale was $275 and the 27 females averaged $243. Highest bull price was $550, paid by Eugene Breitweiser and Son of Jerseyville for a bull from the herd of C. E. Hunter of Wayne City.

The ten highest milk-producing herds in the Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of February were owned by Normann Henke, George Dalber, Elmer Klenke, Waldo Keilbach, Wilbur Federer, Jim Beane, Harold and Carl Baumann, Oliver Spitzer, Vernon Warnecke and C. C. Becker.

The average milk production per cow per day was 37.1 lbs., with a total of 948 cows on test. Research reports on corn-belt feeding programs for cows and

Quad-Cities Precipitation In March Nearly Normal

Precipitation in the Quad-Cities was nearly normal during March with 3.48 inches being recorded, compared to the normal amount of 3.64 inches.

The total for the first quarter of the year stands at 6.63 inches, which is 1.03 inch below normal. During the first quarter of 1963, the total was 7.66 inches.

The official program begins at 10 a.m. in the University of Illinois Stock Pavilion. An open house will be held at the University beef barns both before and after the program.

Early April is the time to get the wool off sheep if they weren't shorn before lambing. Fleeces are cleaner if taken off before ewes go to pasture. Another advantage of early shearing is that the shorn ewe will head for the barn during cold April showers and take her lamb with her. The ewe with a full fleece may keep her lamb out in the rain.

Dairyman should compare hay and grain prices carefully before deciding whether to replace some of the roughage with grain. A pound of a grain mixture containing 700 pounds of ear corn, 400 pounds of 44% soybean meal and 20 pounds of either dicalcium phosphate or steamed bone meal is about equal in feeding value to two pounds of average alfalfa hay. If you can buy one pound of this or a similar grain mixture for less than you must pay for two pounds of average-quality alfalfa hay, you can save money by feeding extra grain instead of buying hay. Some dairymen are running short of hay. Extra-high-quality hay may be worth up to 50% more than average hay.

The area's precipitation was 7.69 inches, or 37-inch below normal. The 6.63 inches recorded for the first three months of the year include 18.75 inches of snow as recorded at the gauge on the wall of the Chain of Rocks canal and maintained by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Precipitation in March was recorded on 14 days and included four inches of snow recorded on the 10th. There was 65-inch on the 5th, 38 on the 8th, 34 on the 9th, 67 on the 10th, 05 on the 14th, 50 on the 20th, 06 on the 21st, 05 on the 25th, 10 on the 28th, 08 on the 28th and traces (less than a hundredth of an inch) on the 4th, 7th, 12th and 30th.

The Quad-Cities' 1964 precipitation for the first quarter consists of 97 inch for January, 2.18 inches in February and 3.48 inches in March. In 1963 the totals were 1.46 inch in January, 31. inch in February and 5.32 inches in March.

The normal amount of precipitation in April is 3.71 inches.

75 Attend Dinner Honoring Class Of 26 Eagle Scouts

The 1964 class of Eagle Scouts and the boys' individual sponsors were part of a gathering of 75 attending the annual Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council Eagle Scout recognition banquet Monday evening at Augustine's restaurant, Belleville.

Twenty-six scouts, including 15 Quad-Cityans, nine Edwardsville boys, one Collinsville resident and one St. Jacob scout, were honored for achieving Eagle rank within the past year. Their achievements also were cited at courts of honor held previously.

Principal speaker was Gene Kelly, St. Louis sports announcer who has broadcast baseball world series, all-star games and other national events. He cited the role of scouting in encouraging spiritual, physical and educational development.

Council Executive Eugene Coe handled introductions and gave an inspirational talk in which he likened life to mountain climbing, commenting that the Eagle Scouts already have experienced the joy of accomplishment.

He said that 20 of the 26 already have chosen universities they would like to attend. Council said 24 have been members of troops and 22 have been in cub Scouts, the latter indicating at least six or seven years of active scouting.

Coe listed the group's occupational preferences as engineering, seven; science, five; construction, three; art and painting two; architecture, two; teaching, one; such fields as veterinary medicine, journalism, mechanics, forestry, business, sales and archeology. Each boy spoke briefly on what he had learned while spending Monday with his sponsor, each one of whom represented one of the selected vocations.

Alvin Barnes III served as chairman of the program and banquet, and there were brief remarks by Council President A. P. Steinhäuser, American Steel Foundries works manager, who urged "high goals, hard work and moral strength."

Rev. Alfred Buis, Granite City, president of the Southern Illinois District, Missouri Lutheran Synod, offered the invocation.

List Of Eagle Scouts

Local Eagles honored were Paul Coban, James Coffrey, William Fuchs, Al Pranatis and Donald Kary, all of Troop Seven, St. Joseph's Catholic Church; Charles Hacke, Peter Maer, John Matras and John Kozayak, all of Troop 12 and Explorer Post 12, Niedringhaus PTA; Charles McMillan, Troop 15, Fraternal Order of Eagles; and Mark Hellrich, Paul Hellrich, Ronald Jansen, Larry Nolan and Eugene Vrenick, all of Troop 18, Sacred Heart Holy Name Society.

Lieutenant Governor Candidate

Dee Outlines Program During Campaign Visit

A five-point program was outlined by Marvin R. Dee, candidate for lieutenant governor in the Illinois Republican primary election April 14, during a visit here Tuesday.

Dee said he favors logical economy in government with no tax increase; Senate approval of only capable directing officers of the state government, instilling public confidence in the administration; development of an effective business and industrial climate to develop a greater demand for labor; full and complete cooperation with and between city, township and county safety throughout an aggressive program.

Born in Chicago, the 49-year-old candidate is president and board chairman of A. S. Dee & Son, Inc., established 1892, a Chicago investment firm. He also is president and chairman of three affiliated companies. A widower, he has two grown children.

Engineering, Finance, Law

His education has included Chicago elementary and high schools, Crane Tech Junior College (engineering), University of Chicago College of Commerce (Finance) and College of Law (Legal).

He has been a field engineer of the Chicago Water Pipe Extension Bureau; assistant secretary of the U. S. Commerce Department; agent for the U. S. Treasury Department; chief traffic engineer for the Cook county Sheriff, appointed in 1950; and commissioner on the Illinois Traffic Study Commission, beginning in 1955.

An active Republican, Dee for more than 20 years has devoted time to a variety of civic, social and charitable organizations. Chairman of the Illinois Committee on Licenses of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, he was responsible for Robert McCoid and Patrick Culbert.

Scout officials introduced included Rollin Henn, council commissioner; Gene H. Stenberg, council board member and past president; Dr. Stanley Maer, Univah (Quad-City) district chairman; and Bernard Miller Jr., Univah district commissioner.

MARVIN DEE, of Chicago, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Illinois, who paid a visit Tuesday to the Quad-Cities and called on C. E. Townsend, editor of the Press-Record, with whom he served for six years as a non-salaried public member of the Illinois Traffic Study Commission.

passage of the first new license laws in 20 years—historic laws intended to curb unethical real estate practices in this state. An Illinois registered professional engineer, past master of Masonic Lodge 944, a Shriner, past commander of the Navy Club of Chicago and past national commandant of Navy Clubs of the U. S. New Chief Judge

To Put Emphasis

On Traffic Safety

A "help stop the epidemic" idea for traffic safety was issued this week to mayors, sheriffs, police chiefs, Illinois state police and circuit court magistrates by

Chief Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark, who assumed the chief judge duties yesterday.

"Twenty persons have been killed on Madison county highways during the first three months of 1964. If these deaths had been caused by polio or other er disease, we would be fighting an epidemic with all our health facilities.

"Since auto accidents were the cause, we merely say it was tragic and turn the page of our newspaper to some more pleasant feature," Clark commented.

Battle Being Lost

"Traffic safety is one of our most serious local and national problems. We are losing the battle of the highway. As long ago as 1951, the U. S. recorded its onemillionth death from traffic accidents.

"Figures are misleading, as they do not reflect the total picture.

Auto accidents result not primarily in deaths, but injuries.

There are about 125 non-fatal injuries for each death.

"Young men aged 15 to 30 are particularly affected. More young people die from auto accidents than from any other cause. Of all the 15-to-25-year-old youths in America who died in a recent ten-year period,

42% died as a result of motor vehicle accidents.

Young, Old Pedestrians

"Statistics also show that the majority of pedestrians killed are small children and older people, not able to cross streets safely.

"You may ask what interest the court has in automobile accidents. The circuit court must try all personal injury suits.

About 60% of the jury trials in our county are personal injury claims arising out of auto accidents. This percentage is growing every year as our population increases.

"Every driver has the feeling that he does not make mistakes.

He becomes upset when an officer gives him a ticket. It is a forceful reminder that may save life from the present epidemic of accidents.

Redneck Driving Errors

"We have not developed a vaccine to prevent human error in motoring. It is estimated that a driver must make an average of 50 important decisions per mile driven. All programs for traffic safety are helpful, and if we can save the life of one child or other citizen of our country, we should use every effort to do it.

"Now that spring is here and more children will be out playing and more cars will be on the highway, I am asking the sheriff departments of our circuit, mayors and city police and the state police to use every effort to emphasize traffic safety.

"In the Traffic Division of our court, I am suggesting that our magistrates emphasize traffic safety to persons who appear in their courts, by way of explanation of the laws, and displays or photographs of accident

scenes."

New Federal Income Tax Law Explained

(What does the new federal tax law mean to each individual? The following summary of the 300-page Revenue Act of 1964, signed by President Johnson on Feb. 26, has been prepared by the Chamber of Commerce.)

Declaration of Economy. It is the sense of Congress, in passing the tax bill, that it recognizes the importance of taking all reasonable means to restrain government spending and urges the President to declare his accord to this objective.

Individual Rate Reduction. Over a two-year period the bottom rate will be reduced to 14% and the top rate to 70%.

The bottom $200 bracket (single taxpayer) is split into four $50 brackets taxed at 14%, 16%, 18% and 20%.

Minimum Standard Deduction. A minimum standard deduction of $300 for each taxpayer plus $100 for each allowance exemption (maximum $1000).

Corporate Rate Reduction. Reduce the corporate tax rate from 52% to 50% in 1964, and to 48% in 1965. The normal and surtax rates will be reversed:

(1) Normal tax reduced from 30% to 22%; (2) surtax rate to be 28% in 1964 and 26% for 1965.

Current Corporate Tax Payments. Over a seven-year period, corporations with a tax liability in excess of $100,000 will be put on a current-payment basis.

Dividend Credit and Exclusion. The 4% credit is reduced to 2% for 1964 and thereafter repealed. The $50 dividend exclusion is increased to $100.

Investment Credit. The required downward adjustment in the basis of property representing the 7% investment credit would be repealed.

Group Term Life Insurance. Limits the employee exclusion for premiums on group term insurance furnished by the employer to premiums paid on the first $50,000 of coverage. Employee will be required to pay tax on premiums paid by the employer on policy coverage in excess of that figure.

Sick Pay Exclusion. Makes the sick pay exclusion of up to $100 a week applicable only to amounts payable during those periods of absence from work beyond the first 30 days after a single illness, except where sick pay is less than 75% of regular pay. In these instances, the waiting period under present law would apply. During the 30-day waiting period, exclusion will be limited to a maximum of $75 a week. The same waiting period applies to accidents as well as illness.

Sale of Residence by Aged Taxpayer. A full exemption from gross income is provided for the gain attributable to the first $20,000 of the sales price of a personal residence in the case of taxpayers who have reached the age of 65 before the sale. Where the sale price exceeds $20,000, a proportion of the gain is excluded.

Deductions for Certain State and Local Taxes. A deduction will be denied for state and local taxes other than property, income, general sales taxes and gasoline taxes. Deductions are, therefore, repealed for auto license and registration fees, alcoholic beverage taxes, and other selected excises.

Casualty Loss Deduction. Deductions for personal casualty and theft losses will be limited to those amounts in excess of $100 for each such loss.

Deduction for Charitable Contributions. Allowable charitable deductions will be increased from 20% to 30% for all charities except private foundations. A five-year carryover will be allowed for contributions in excess of statutory limitations.

The unlimited charitable deduction will continue to be permitted for contributions in those cases where the contributions plus tax have equalled 90% or more of the taxpayer's taxable income in 8 out of 10 preceding years. However, with regard to the unlimited charitable contribution deduction, the recipient foundation must meet new requirements of current distribution; such distributions not go to the donor.

Child Care Expense Deduction. A child care deduction will be available in the case of working wives where the combined income of husband and wife does not exceed $6000. This deduction will further be permitted in the case of a wife who is "institutionalized" or "incapacitated."

The allowable deduction will be $600 for one child, $900 for two or more children up to age 15.

Moving Expense Deduction. A new deduction will be allowed for certain moving expenses, including transportation of household goods, the employee and his family, and meals and lodging in transit. This will apply where the employee is not reimbursed for the expenses by the employer.

Interest on Loans to Purchase Certain Insurance and Annuity Contracts. (Bank Loan Ins.) Formerly deductible, the interest on loans incurred for the purpose of paying premiums of life insurance will generally be disallowed.

Stock Option. In addition to certain technical amendments, five new major amendments will apply to stock options.

Options issued after January 1, 1964 effective date (but before January 1, 1965) may be modified during that year to satisfy the new requirements.

Aggregation of Oil and Gas Properties. Under present law, oil and gas leases or acquisitions may be aggregated in determining what constitutes a property for purposes of computing the percentage depletion deduction. The new law will restrict aggregations which now offset high profits against low profit wells. Generally, aggregated units will have to be acquired under one lease to qualify.

Taxation of Capital Gains. An indefinite carryover of capital losses is provided in the case of individuals subject to the existing $100 ceiling. Present law provides for only five-year carryover of such losses.

Gain From Disposition of Depreciable Realty. When depreciable realty is disposed of at a gain, depreciation deductions will be treated as giving rise to ordinary income to the extent these deductions exceed depreciation allowances under the "straight line" method of computing depreciation.

Averaging of Income. Generally, this provision allows for the averaging of individual incomes over a five-year period where the income in the current year exceeds the average income of the prior four years by more than 33%. The excess in the current year must be at least $3000.

Consolidated Returns Tax. The 2% penalty tax paid by corporations for filing consolidated returns is repealed.

Losses From Expropriation by Foreign Governments. Taxpayers will be permitted to carry-forward ten years (with no carry-back) expropriation losses arising in taxable years beginning January 1, 1959 if such expropriation losses represent at least 50% of the total net operating loss for a year.

Taxation of Income Earned by Citizens Living Abroad. The present $35,000 exclusion for U.S. citizens who are permanent residents of a foreign country is reduced to $25,000. The $20,000 exclusion for those who remain abroad for 17 out of 18 consecutive months is left unchanged.

Medicine and Drug Deductions. The 1% limitation on medicine and drugs which must be retained in account in determining the deductions for medical expenses will not be applicable in the case of amounts paid for the care of the taxpayer or his wife. If either of them has reached the age of 65, this also applies in the case of a dependent mother or father if the mother or father has reached that age.

Hill Promoted To New Circuit Clerk Duties

Dale Hill of Madison, former Madison county probate clerk and associate circuit clerk, Wednesday assumed the duties of administrative associate clerk, it was announced by Willard Portell of Granite City, circuit clerk.

His duties will parallel those of the circuit clerk in both work and authority, Portell said.

The court has recognized, and Portell and Hill have concurred, that to insure continued efficient operation of the clerk's office, two men should be acquainted with all of the facts of the operation of the office.

The new system at the present time is familiar only to Portell, including divisions, docketing, bookkeeping and personnel, he said.

Expanded School Citizen Committee To Meet April 16

Plans for expansion of the Granite City school district citizens' advisory committee to several hundred members, were made at the steering group meeting Tuesday night at the school administrative office.

Homer L. Johnson, 2122 Johnson road, 1963-64 president of the Granite City Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, was elected as chairman of the citizens' committee, which will seek widespread public support of a school construction bond issue and tax rate election May 23.

A Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. representative, Johnson is a past president of the Friedhardt grade school PTA and is president-elect of the Coolidge junior high school PTA. He is a board member of PTA District 23.

George Eulankis, 2014 Franklin avenue, a former member and secretary of the Granite City school board, was elected as vice-chairman of the citizens' group.

Committees Begin Work
Membership information committees were formed, and it was decided to also create finance and publicity units and a speakers' bureau.

An immediate action was planned for the membership group, which will draw up a list of prospective additions to the citizens' committee, and for the information committee, which will prepare a list of questions and answers on school needs and also may select a theme for the pre-election campaign.

A mass meeting to kick off the drive to approve the referendum was set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 16 at the Granite City high school auditorium. The question-and-answer sheets will be given out then.

Supt. Harold M. Kaiser outlined the principal purpose of the citizens' group as dissemination of information on the referendum. In connection with this goal, the committee will seek the active participation of civic groups, labor unions, PTA units and others.

Funds For Handbills
The finance committee to be appointed will seek contributions for handbills and other expenses.

Johnson expressed enthusiasm and Eulankis said he is optimistic about the election result. Johnson said that if each voter could have heard Dr. Kaiser's explanation of the program to the citizens two weeks ago, there would be an overwhelming vote in favor of the bonds and rate authorization.

A positive approach was decided upon, with Henry D. Karandjef pointing out that the objective is a good education for local children. William Holscher suggested that uncertainty be eliminated on use of the educational tax rate increase, commenting that uncertainty over monthly charges was viewed as a factor in defeat of the 1962 sewer bond issue election.

Please Call To Vote
Possibility of having women or students telephone all voters on the day of the special election was discussed.

Johnson said that a point which should be stressed is that the extent of crowding of classrooms affects the caliber of education that can be imparted to children.
